

UndocuFund

for Fire Relief in Sonoma County

UndocuFund Descriptions

As of October 24, 2017

Short

The UndocuFund for Fire Relief in Sonoma County was created by a coalition of local immigration nonprofits to directly assist undocumented victims of the Northern California fires. One hundred percent of funds will go to victim support. Learn more at www.undocufund.org.

Long

The UndocuFund for Fire Relief in Sonoma County was created by local immigration service providers to directly assist undocumented Sonoma County residents who are victims of the Northern California fires. An estimated 28,000 undocumented children and adults live in Sonoma County, and many have lost homes, vehicles, belongings, and their livelihoods. One hundred percent of all donations will go to victim support, with partners covering all administrative costs from other funds. For a list of the fund's partners as well as other information, please visit www.undocufund.org.

For more information about the fund, please visit our website, www.undocufund.org.